IN NICARAGUA.

Sketches of Life in the Malarial Districts of Central America.

A Travelled Young Man—How Bananas Are Procured—The Sufferings Experienced by Daring Gold Hunters—The Glorious Fourth.

George Batty, formerly of Vinalhaven, who arrived last week from Nicaragua, was interviewed Wednesday by a reporter of The C-G. for the benefit of our many readers. Mr. Batty went to Nicaragua in February, in the employ of the Baltimore Fruit Co. He is the superintendent engineer of the company, looking after their fleet of three river steamers, conducting their operations and overseeing their repairs. One of these steamers has a freight capacity of 20,000 bunches of bananas, the other two being smaller boats for tug purposes.

BANANA GATHERING.

These boats go up the Escondida River for one hundred miles ordering the bananas cut on the various plantations on the stream, bunches being towed up after them to collect the fruit and take it to the steamers which take it to Baltimore and Philadelphia.

The company ships an average of 30,000 bunches of bananas a month from Bluefields, where Mr. Batty is located. Two years ago 30,000 bunches was considered a big yearly shipment.

The Morgan and the Savannah companies also come into the river and take out an equal number.

A MOSQUITO RESERVATION.

Bluefields has about 4,000 inhabitants, consisting of Jamaicans, Spaniards, Creoles and Chinese, with enough Americans and Canadians to leave the lamp. The population gains a subsistence by laboring in the banana and rubber business. The climate is very even, the thermometer ranging from seventy to ninety, scarcely getting above the latter figure.

The water is very bad and productive of malarial fever. Yellow fever is unknown, the malarial variety filling the bill to the satisfaction of all concerned. The malaria is confined to the river districts, the interior being high land and regarded as very healthy. In the interior the gathering of rubber and the cutting of mahogany are the principal businesses.

FABULOUS GOLD REPORTS.

The reports of rich gold mines in Nicaragua, Honduras and Guatemala are very much exaggerated. There is gold in all three of these countries, but not in paying quantities. The only miners who can withstand the dangers of the climate are the native Indians, and those who control these natives, getting their labor almost for a song, are the only persons who have thus far succeeded there in gold digging.

It is difficult to portray the hardships, privations and almost certain death that await gold hunters in that country. The pestiferous perservations of sand-flies and ravenous mosquitoes deprive them of sleep and leave them easy victims of malaria. Many of those who go hunting for gold never come back, while those who do return are broken in health and ruined in purse. Many of these are experienced miners from California and Colorado.

Central American gold bonanzas are a delusion and snare, and a fearfully destructive snare at that, is the verdict of thousands who have lost money, health and hope in the malarial regions of Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua. Mr. Batty's advice to Eastern young men, who have been troubled with visions of possible lucky gold strikes in the fabled gilded regions of Central America, is to stay at home and work on the streets for a sure stipend rather than dig in possible mine claims for sure death. Bluefields picks up a great many of the disappointed gold hunters, who struggle in there on their way home, and so our informant knows very thoroughly of what he speaks.

Mr. Batty's address is Bluefields, Nicaragua, Mosquito Reservation, and any of our readers wishing further information on this subject can address him there, and he will gladly give them the facts wanted.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

The Americans in Bluefields celebrated the last Independence Day in a suitable manner. The day was ushered in by a salute from the Mosquito Government guns, which were kindly loaned for the purpose. At ten o'clock there was a gathering of American people at the office of the Consulate where a procession was formed, headed by the Bluefields Brass Band, the leader of which was an American. In the procession appeared the "Goddess of Liberty" and "Uncle Sam," represented by two American children. After the parade the Declaration of Independence was read by the American Consul followed by patriotic addresses by leading American residents of Bluefields. At 3-30 p.m. two hundred invited guests boarded the Mabel Combes, one of the Baltimore Fruit Company's steamers, for a sail up the river, with a supper in the steamer's saloon, 100 plates being laid. The feast was illuminated by electric lights and made a very pretty sight in the evening. The party returned at midnight, after very successfully assisting the American eagle to flap its wings.

Mr. Batty returns to Bluefields Aug. 25 from Philadelphia, and The C-G will be favored with several letters from his pen.

THE YACHTS.

Steam yacht Melissa of Boston, Mr. Eaton, owner, on board, came into the harbor, Wednesday afternoon, for a night's anchorage—Sloop yacht Julia, L. M. Johnson of Boston, owner, on board, spent last week in our harbor, making Rockland its headquarters for excursions and short trips. One of the party, Mr. Libby of Boston, was quite severely injured by a fall. He took the steamboat here for home—Yacht Lurline looked into our harbor one day last week—Yacht Iowa of Philadelphia came in here Wednesday, en route for Bar Harbor.

BUILDING UP ROCKLAND.

For years past The C-G. has tried hard to impress upon Rockland's citizens the importance of sustaining the steamboat line to Bluehill and other sections of Hancock County.

Wednesday evening, was the Florence which covers that route, landed her freight and passengers, we were not a little pleased to see a long string of passengers file their way onto the wharf, and to notice that the boat's deck was literally filled with freight, while none the less agreeable is the information that on every trip out of this city the Florence carries a heavy shipment of goods from Rockland merchants to Hancock County patrons. Without the good offices of the Florence all that trade would center elsewhere. These various salt-water feeders, the Rockland, the Pioneer, the Mayfield and the line of smart packets are doing a very important work in developing and extending the business of our city, and should have a warm corner in every business man's heart.

There is another serious Indian outbreak, some of the Dakotas being sick with the measles.

The Nabant lawn tennis tournament is over and the Boston papers will now have room for an occasional item of news.

The author of "Annie Rooney" is soon to publish a new song. Anything to relieve us of "Comrades, Comrades, ever since we were boys."

A reportorial coveydrop at Bar Harbor has caught Blaine humming a tune. If it wasn't "Annie Rooney" or "Comrades" the Blaine boom will survive the discovery.

The British Parliament was prorogued Wednesday. The conviction of Verney and the charges against Deobal were sent to call for a very decided accent on the last syllable of prorogued.

The persecuted Hebrews have a Moses in the wealthy Baron Hirsch. He says he is prepared to spend anywhere from $20,000,000 to $40,000,000 to assist his persecuted race and enable them to take a fresh start in the world outside of the realm of the Czar.

And Maine journalism was honored in Detroit, Tuesday. A Maine editor, Department Commander Miller, walked at the head of the Maine Grand Army men, a good hundred, and if Sam Miller wasn't proud, we're proud for him.

There is some talk of Maine and New Hampshire making a joint exhibit at the World's Fair. If Maine isn't able to go it alone, she had better not show at all. The idea that Maine with her granite, and her limestone, and her manufactures, and her farms and ship-building and her godheadfulness should "line drives" with a neighboring State! It is preposterous.

DORR, N. H., Feb. 19, 1891. In the Supreme Court of the State of New Hampshire, the case of Eugene Ayer, of Boston, vs. the town of Somersworth, to recover damages for injuries caused by his horse being frightened by a handbill on the street, the jury gave the plaintiff a verdict of $716.20.

The above item we publish for the benefit of those of our readers who are in the habit of throwing waste paper into the city thoroughfares. It is a very prevalent nuisance and a dangerous one.

The vessels of the French fleet now cruising about the European ports are all painted a dull, sulphurous gray, exactly the color of common smoke as it issues from the gun. The contention of the French is that this color has the advantage of being illusive and indistinguishable in fogs and sea mists and darkness as during the smoke of battle. The French fleet, however, had better keep off the Atlantic coast with their indistinguishable ships, or some of our coasters will run them down and sink them.

Waterville is a stepping high and has reason to feel good. Nelson has been showing western tracks what Maine blood and education will do. Webb's Mountaineer has been opening the eyes of New Englanders, and now the government sends a crew to the Kennebec to dig out the river, and Augusta will no longer be the head of Kennebec navigation. Water-villagers, led by W. T. Haines, esq., have made a manly fight for this improvement, and we are glad to see that it was a winning one.

The big railroad man and shipbuilder of Maine is Mr. Arthur Sewall, who is a New England Democrat of the strictest sort, which means that he is rock rigid, copper fastened and unchangeable as the eternal hills. I am told that the reciprocity movement in America can diploamacy under Secretary Blaine and the Postal Subsidy bill provisions have encouraged an American steamship line to give Mr. Sewall's shipyards at Bath, Me., an order for a 4,000 ton ship. The largest sailing vessel in the world at the present time is only 3,000 tons burden, and the largest American ship 500 tons less. This order may not change Mr. Sewall's politics, but it will give his workmen a healthy appreciation of the effects of reciprocity and shipping subsidies.—N. Y. Press.

The article elsewhere on ship building in Knox County shows considerable activity in local shipyards. The outlook, however, is not the most encouraging. Shipping is active, but the heavy financial crisis has had the effect of preventing further contracts and possible builders are waiting for the tide to turn. Mr. Bean and others of our county builders report no contracts ahead. The movement of crops across the Atlantic, which promises to be of unusual magnitude, may serve, however, to stimulate business that Maine's famous yards may again be pushed to their utmost capacity turning out the staunch and speedy craft that add to our country's reputation and wealth.

Brer Blaine he done say nothin'.

The Alliance is spreading and so is the gripe. The low price of sugar is very opportune, coming as it does in preserving time.

Boston proposes to increase her population by annexing several important suburbs. Is New York among the number?

The ancient schooner Polly again bobs up serenely in another column. The suggestion of our correspondent is not an idle one.

The money question is one of the important features in the Ohio fight, but then the money question is nothing new in a political contest.

American residents in Bluefields, Nicaragua, put the patriotism of our state in the shade. They celebrated the Fourth of July in right royal style.

Maine had a large delegation in the Grand Army parade in Detroit, and we venture to say that no state sent a finer representation in quality.

The Tennessee miners will accomplish a great deal in the line of humanity if they succeed in putting an end to the convict labor system. It is a relic of barbarism.

Judge A. P. Wiswell is a possible factor in the Third Congressional District contest. If he should make a fight for the place he would develop a great deal of strength in Hancock County.

We shall expect to see T. B. Reed give Brother McKinley a lift in the Ohio fight. Turn about is fair play. Mr. Reed's presence would not detract from the liveliness of the fight.

The article on Nicaragua should be read by those of our young men who have been reading accounts of rich gold finds in Central America. There is more malaria than money there.

The patent office last year granted 23,307 patents, and yet no one has furnished a device for telling the man at the telephone whether the fellow he wants at the other end is in his office or not.

The Dominion government has wisely decided to surrender the Eastport fishing schooners recently seized. If they hadn't given them up we—or rather Mr. Boutelle would have made things hot for them.

An eight-year-old lad out in Wisconsin has set fire to two houses and nearly killed his little sister with a club. This young man needs a repressive hand. The next thing he'll be smoking cigarettes.

A man with a scar on his left wrist can safely reckon on being arrested for the murder of Almy, no matter what size, weight or complexion he may be. The Almy hand seems to be another case of Mark Twain's "Stolen White Elephant."

The rumor that J. H. Manley will figure as a candidate for Representative Milliken's shoes in the third district is not reasonable. Mr. Manley is too shrewd a politician to buck against the great popularity of Governor Burleigh. Mr. Burleigh will win hands down.

Prosecution is to follow electrocution in New York, the proprietors of various papers there being indicted for publishing reports of the execution of the four murderers in Sing Sing. The Tribune was the only paper that complied with the law.

The fight between the Sugar Trust and Speckles is interesting and profitable to the consumer. Tuesday Speckles after several reductions to offset the Trust's reductions sold granulated sugar at four cents a pound with two percent deduction for cash. This is the lowest price ever reached.

The statements that there is no one capable of continuing the business of E. C. Allen are right to a certain extent, and yet again are far from being right. It is a rather humiliating truth, but no less a truth, that when a person dies the ripple made is succeeded by the original calm. It is now stated that Mr. Allen's sister Florence is in every way equipped to continue the immense business of the deceased, and as the Lewiston Journal very truly remarks, "there are some mighty good lieutenants in Mr. Allen's establishment, too."

The sentences that fall from Mary T. Lathrop's lips fall with a force and eloquence. At the recent Michigan state convention she gave utterance to the following truths:

"It should be our first thought at this convention to strengthen every weak point, fling aside every hindrance, and prepare for more effective service than ever before. We are of no earthly or heavenly use, either, unless we dare the farthest battle line in this contest; fling our banners where the smoke is thickest, and are faithful to the most aggressive truth and method. Our hope for the ultimate victory of the great truths for which we stand is not less strong if it rests in these days more on faith in God than on the force of any human endeavor or fidelity of men. It is quite the fashion to exhort each other to personal consecration, to earnest evangelism, and to prayer for the Crusade fire, but, my sisters, God never repeats Himself. The Crusade was only the dawn of the reveille—His way to arrest the thought of a careless and selfish nation to a mighty struggle. We need a higher faith and a more prophetic vision than the Crusade women ever knew. Many who prayed in the saloons are out of the contest to day because unwilling to go with God to the answering of Crusade prayers. Divine power was not exhausted in 1873. God's to-morrow is never greater than His yesterday's. He has gifts and revelations for the temperance hosts they never yet have known, and greater than any past must be the future before the victory is won."

EARLY ODD FELLOWSHIP.

The First Lodge Instituted in This Part of the State.

A Trip to Boston to Be Initiated—A Boston Delegation in Thomaston—Queer Initiation—Offshoots From the Parent Stem.

The present interest in Odd Fellowship in this part of the state has suggested to The C-G. the idea that a little sketch of the early Odd Fellow organizations herabouts might prove interesting, and we herewith append the result of an interview with C. Prince of Thomaston, President of the First National Bank, who was the first Odd Fellow in Eastern Maine.

In 1833 Thomaston young men became interested in the subject of Odd Fellowship and after talking the matter over decided to send one of their number to Boston to take the degrees, procure a charter and make all the necessary arrangements for the institution of a Thomaston lodge. Mr. C. Prince was the one sent. He took the first degree, and a delegation was promised from the Boston brethren.

Mr. Prince returned to Thomaston, the proper arrangements were made, and a little later the Boston delegation came down on the boat to East Thomaston, now Rockland, and walked to Thomaston.

There were eight in the delegation, headed by Hezekiah Prince of Boston, then the chief officer of the Grand Encampment of Massachusetts. They were quartered at the Thomaston Tavern, presided over by Mrs. Colonel Haskell. The house is still standing, owned and occupied by the Hon. Edward Robinson's family. It was originally called the Gleason house.

The lodge was instituted in Dwight's Hall, the upper floor of what is now the Richard D. Starr residence. Mr. Dwight occupied the ground floor as a grocery store and bowling alley. Mr. Starr afterward bought and converted it into the residence which he now occupies.

In the forenoon of October 18, 1843, the initiating officers and a party of some ten candidates assembled in Dwight's Hall. Here a most embarrassing predicament presented itself. It was found, when it was time to initiate the candidates, that the rituals had been mislaid and lost, and as none of the visitors were familiar with the work without the books the situation was more serious than ludicrous.

Mr. C. Prince, who had taken the first degree in Boston, suggested as a possible solution of the difficulty, that he had in his possession a published "expose" of Odd Fellowship, and that if the portion devoted to the first degree was a sample of the rest of the book's contents it would answer admirably for the missing rituals. The book was produced and after some discussion the waiting candidates were initiated and the degrees conferred. Mr. Prince, among the others, receiving the remaining degrees from the "expose" he had furnished.

In the evening another batch was put through the initiatory and degrees, and Georgian Lodge, No. 3, I. O. O. F., of West Thomaston, with some twenty charter members, was instituted. The first officers being: L. H. Chandler, N. G.; George Prince, V. G.; C. Prince, Secretary; Michael Libby, Treasurer; Hezekiah Combs, Conductor.

From this lodge sprang lodges in Bangor, Bath, East Thomaston, now Rockland, and other places, the Thomaston lodge being the third in the state, Portland having the other two. The East Thomaston (Rockland) lodge was the eighth in the state and was called Relief Lodge. It was organized in 1844 with the following officers: M. E. Thurlow, S. H. Fuller, Joseph Farwell and John T. Berry. In April, 1846, another lodge was instituted in East Thomaston, called Eastern Star Lodge, No. 49, with the following officers: Elkanah Spear, Jr., John P. Wise, A. H. Kimball and Joseph Farwell.

Georgian Lodge had thirteen years of lively existence and then dissolved. Relief Lodge of East Thomaston was in existence in 1861. After the initiation of the Thomaston Odd Fellows by means of the "expose," the Odd Fellow Grand Lodge issued still a number of alleged exposures of Odd Fellowship and had them extensively circulated, which effectually squelched all trouble from published exposures.

MILITIA SHOOTING.

What the Rockland Soldiers are Doing

The August Contests.

Rockland's militia boys are busily shooting in their army. The eight making the best score will be sent to Augusta, Aug. 18, to take part in the state shooting contest. The team will consist of seven men and one substitute. The company has no range and is therefore obliged to practice in the army.

Adjutant General Franks will be here to-morrow evening to give the company instruction in guard mounting. The company will leave for Augusta, Aug. 17, the shooting team going the preceding Friday.

The first contest is a regimental skirmish match to be shot by teams of 50 men, 20 yards, distance unknown, limit 100 to 250 yards, 10 rounds advancing, 10 rounds retreating, 10 rounds close range.

The second is an exhibition skirmish match to be shot by 50 men, the conditions the same as the previous match, except that the position is standing.

The third is an individual skirmish match, open to all militia men, including officers. Distance, 150 to 300 yards, unknown, second class target, 10 rounds, five shots advancing and five shots retreating, 30 seconds at each halt.

POTTED TINKER MACKEREL.

Well G. Singh of this city provides us with the following recipe in this season of plentiful tinkers is very pat:

For 50-cut off head and fins; salt a little and pack in a jar over a fire. Then cover with vinegar, with a tablespoon of spices in a bag to suit the taste, then bake slow six hours. Add one pepper.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Rockland was well represented at the Fair field trot last week.

Wednesday was a good mackerel day, and the bay was full of small boats.

The Bohemian Club is a recent organization, and has an enthusiastic membership.

Dr. Estabrook is making important improvements to his residence, Pleasant street.

Charles L. Dunning has sold the Gurney colt, a six-year-old, dark brown, to J. E. Hill.

There are more good-looking turnouts in this city than any other place of its size in the state.

A frightened horse and a truck wagon stirred matters up at the depot Wednesday noon.

Steamer Florence, Capt. O. A. Crockett, is having all the business she can do, big freights and big passenger lists being the rule.

Hiram Hall, Jr., is having a great many of his patent tool handles manufactured in Jefferson, and is now there overseeing matters.

Game Warden Peabody of Thomaston has been in town the past week, looking after infringers of the three-mile limit to sealing law.

Sheriff Gray has received from Vinalhaven a very handsome canvas double-enders, which he will use for fishing excursions on neighboring lakes.

A copy of the Bluefields, Nicaragua, Messenger, with a report of the Fourth of July exercises has been added to our collection by Geo. Batty.

Chief Engineer Hattine of the Boston and Bangor fleet was in the city Wednesday, having made a trip in the Rockland to ascertain her condition. He reports her in the trim.

Sheriff Gray made a run, raid to the edge of Union, Wednesday and searched the premises of James Sidelinger, finding evidences of liquor selling, in empties and other apparatus. He has Mr. Sidelinger on one case of single sale.

There is talk of another race among our local flyers next week or the succeeding week. Mr. H. Nash announces his readiness to match Lazy Mike against any of the horses that compete with him in the last race in this city, the match to be for fun at any time or place.

We have received a copy of a new bass song, "My Good Ship Maud," composed by Mrs. Clara Buzzell Millay of this city. It is a rollicking sea song, the words and music both being original. We hope it may have a large sale.

A Rockland man whose duties keep him almost constantly away from home took a carriage drive Wednesday to Bay Point, Warren, and vicinity, his first visit in that section for fifteen years. His surprise at the wonderful changes and improvements made can better be imagined than described.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Miss L. A. Lord of Brunswick is at her old home in this city.

Fred A. Tuttle and H. I. Hix went to Boston Wednesday night.

Frank Snow and wife of Brunswick, Ga., are visiting in the city.

Mrs. Fannie McDermott of Dorchester, Mass., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. P. Hurley.

H. W. Davis and family of Rosindale, Mass., are visiting at Edw. Hall's, Camden street.

Well G. Singh and family went to Northport, Saturday, for camping week.

Miss Nellie Arnold of Lynn and Frank Ingraham, also of Lynn, are at Capt. Mark L. Ingraham's.

Mrs. Seagraves of Providence, R. I., and Mrs. Weston of Buffalo, N. Y., are at St. Katherine's Hotel.

O. E. Fuller of Akron, O., who has been visiting his brother, W. O. Fuller, went to Oldtown, Friday.

THE PANTS FACTORY.

The fate of the proposed new enterprise for Rockland depends in large measure upon the interest shown in the meeting called for next Saturday, in City Hall, for the purpose of forming a corporation, elect officers and transact other necessary business, looking towards new business for Rockland. With such an organization formed something can and will be accomplished.

Every citizen who proposes to be identified with our city's progress and who is willing to do his little part towards creating new business here should be present. A halt now would be suicidal. There is an evident intention to do something, which should be encouraged. No public-spirited citizen will stay away. You, dear reader, are only one, but there may be a great many who are also counting themselves but one. The factory is all but won. Why not put the thing through to a handsome finish.

That meeting occurs next Saturday, Aug. 15, in City Hall, at 7.30 p. m. Of course you'll be there.

THE VOTE CONTEST.

We had quite a lot of fun with our previous vote contests and as fun is good for all, especially at this time of the year when young and old, giddy maid and roystering youth are all "in it," we make the midsummer start. Rockland is noted for its handsome, good-natured prohibition hawks, while the very gentlemanly drivers of the various lines that go from the city to the adjoining towns are each and all "way up" in their profession and are all classed in this contest as "backmen." The whip and gloves will be gotten up in good style as are all things that emanate from THE C. G. office and will enable the fortunate driver to put on lots of style when attending funerals and clam-bakes.

Name your man and start the fun a-going!

The water should be piped into the cemetery. The city should do all in its power to encourage the beautifying of lots, as a handsome cemetery is always a credit to a town.

The amount of money now in circulation is greater than ever before in the history of the nation. We do not say this of our own personal knowledge. Saw it in an exchange.

Boston's dangerous electric wires are being buried. After the interment of so many unfortunate hennies, killed by the deadly wire, it is a sort of satisfactory retribution to put the wires themselves under ground.

Arthur Sewall & Co., of Bath, who built the Shenandoah of 3500 tons, the largest wooden ship ever constructed, are evidently not satisfied with their achievement, inasmuch as they have just contracted to build a ship of 4000 tons.

Newport, Long Branch and other former favorite resorts have no show this season against Bar Harbor with Blaine and his health for attractions. The only hope for opposition resorts is to secure Jerry Simpson or discover a school of new style sea serpents.

The Maine hay crop is all harvested and is quite below the average yield. Other crops with the exception of apples look well, and the prospect, level-headed Maine farmer looks with little favor at the vagaries of the Farmer's Alliance, its rainbow promises and kaleidoscopic platform.

The race question was definitely settled. Friday at the National Encampment of the Grand Army and settled in a way that was altogether honorable to the brave men who fought to save the Union. There will be no separate department for colored veterans. The colored man, who was good enough to stand shoulder to shoulder with the white man in defense of the Union, is good enough to be a member of any Grand Army Post—Boston Journal.

The Grand Army men in Detroit voted to limit their annual parades hereafter to two miles. Two miles is long enough a jaunt for the majority of the old vets whom advancing years have weakened. There was a time, in the first half of the sixties, when they marched farther than that and their votes had little to do with the matter.

Prince George of Greece is in bad odor at St. Petersburg, because he is responsible for a published account of the assault on the Czarowitz in Japan, an account which conveyed the impression that the heir to the Russian throne acted cowardly and fell to the ground while trying to run away. Although Prince George's bravery saved the life of the Czarowitz we shall mail George's C. G. heretofore to Siberia, care of the Superintendent of the Government prisons.

The gathering of New York's Republican clubs in Syracuse, Wednesday, was largely attended and was an enthusiastic meeting. The name of Blaine was the signal for the usual panderism. The platform adopted by the convention indorses the Republican party, as well as protection, reciprocal trade, a bimetallic currency, a fair ballot and a fair court, the creation of a great navy, the restriction of immigration and a State appropriation for the Chicago fair.

Next week we shall publish the first of a set of articles on the history of the Universalist Church in this city. A great portion of the matter therein contained is the result of personal investigation, and will be of importance in supplying information not found in the defective church records. These articles, like the previous church histories published in these columns, are from the pen of Rev. W. O. Holman, whose experience as a pastor in this city and his association with many of the pastors of other churches give to the articles peculiar value.

RELIGIOUS MATTERS.

Rev. Dr. Roberts at the Congregational Church—Mr. Hatch's Resignation Tendered—The Princeton Students in Rockland.

The morning service at the Congregational Church was interesting in more ways than one. Rev. Dr. Roberts, who leaves shortly for his new pastorate in Burlington, Vt., preached for the pastor, Rev. D. P. Hatch, the sermon being a thoughtful one. The line of thought was that whatever our aim in this life we leave some impress, so that we should be careful that the impress be for good.

Another interesting and not very welcome feature of the service was the resignation of Rev. D. P. Hatch to take effect October 1. As has been stated in these columns Mr. Hatch recently received a call from the Paterson, N. J., Church, and about the same time a well known Massachusetts church extended him a call. Mr. Hatch has been considering the matter, and after giving due consideration and weight to the unanimous objections of this church and parish, decided that duty called him to Paterson, N. J., and so he accepted the call. Paterson is a manufacturing city of 80,000 inhabitants, while the church with which Mr. Hatch will labor has a membership of 250.

There is a general expression of regret at the determination reached.

A meeting of the members of the Congregational Church will be held Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock, in the chapel, to act on the resignation of the pastor.

There will be no service in the Congregational Church next Sunday, the church uniting with the First Baptist Society, in the Princeton Student meetings.

PRATT MEMORIAL CHURCH.

Presiding Elder I. H. W. Wharf of Rockland District preached in the Methodist Church Sunday. The pastor, Rev. C. S. Cummings, will probably occupy his pulpit next Sunday. He is now in Bridgton, having been granted a two weeks vacation by the Official Board. His family preceded him to Bridgton.

ST. PETER'S EPISCOPAL.

At St. Peter's Church, next Sunday, there will be Litany and Holy Communion, and sermon at 10.30, Sunday School at 12, and choral service at 7.30 with sermon.

Men and boys wishing to enter the choir will please report at the church for rehearsals, Friday evening at 7.30.

FIRST BAPTIST.

Rev. W. C. Barrows occupied his old pulpit in the newly decorated First Baptist Church, Sunday, preaching two very able sermons. It was during Mr. Barrows' pastorate that the church was rebuilt, and it must have been gratifying to him to see the continued improvement. Rev. Dr. Roberts assisted in the evening service.

FREE BAPTIST.

There will be preaching at 10.30 a. m. at the Free Will Church next Sunday, with a gospel service in the evening, opening with an address upon "Two Thieves."

THE PRINCETON STUDENTS.

A party of five young men, known as the "Princeton Students," are spending their summer vacation making a trip through our state. They go about from place to place, stopping from two days to a week in each. Mr. Pierson, the leader, is a graduate of Princeton College, class of '90. The other four are now in college and form a male quartet. Mr. Green, the second tenor, is also a soloist and renders service in that way. Last year they made a tour through New York state, where their work is spoken of very highly, being endorsed by many pastors, also by Geo. A. Hall, state secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association. Of Mr. Pierson the Brooklyn Daily Times says: "Mr. Pierson has a wonderful hold on young men, and it is because he understands them and possesses the rare faculty of presenting truth in an attractive and practical manner."

They are to be in Rockland the last of this week, continuing until the first of next. Services will be held in the Cong'l church Thursday and Friday evenings at 7.45 o'clock; in the First Baptist church, Sunday at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m., and Monday evening at 7.45, and in the Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium, for men only, Sunday at 4 p. m.

THE FARMERS' EXCHANGE.

In doing a thriving business. A meeting of the directors was held Friday forenoon, and the annual meeting called for Sept. 11. All the directors were present with President Norman Lermont of Warren in the chair. Preparations were made for the annual gathering of the stockholders, and a most satisfactory report will be presented. The Exchange is capitalized at $2500 and $1700 worth of cash business has been transacted since the inception of company, last November. Alexander Singer has proved a very efficient manager. The Exchange is contemplating increasing its capital and extending its business.

FAIR OUT TO SEA.

Capt. Grant of Matineus Rock was in the city Thursday. He has now three assistants and reports little news uneventful at present, beyond the interest in mackereling which is at its height theseabouts, the fish being plenty and running large. He says that another dwelling house will probably be built on the rock next spring.

Cards are out announcing the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of W. O. Fuller and Bethia C. Snow, Aug. 12. Mr. Fuller at that time was a resident of Warren and Miss Snow a resident of Thomaston. Two years after their marriage they came to this city, where they have since lived, occupying a prominent position in Rockland life. Mr. Fuller is 75 years of age, and enjoys the best of health, still retaining his position and interest as the senior member of the firm of Fuller & Cobb. Mrs. Fuller is 69, and also enjoys good health. There will be no celebration of the anniversary, although scores of friends in this and other places will wish them all things pleasant.

UNWELCOME VISITOR.

A family residing at the Meadow discovered a skunk in the cellar box, the other morning. All attempts to dislodge the visitor failed, and it was found necessary to kill him where he was, greatly to the detriment of the comfort of the occupants of the house.

Get a kettle of coal tar and place it in the cellar. Into the tar plunge a red hot poker until the smell of the tar permeates the atmosphere of the house—MRS. PARLOW.

The Terrible Death of Joseph Dufoe at Crotch Island.

Last week THE C. G. contained a short item with reference to the death of Joseph Dufoe at Crotch Island. Mr. Dufoe was a member of the granite firm of Dufoe & Westcott, who operate the Crotch Island quarry.

July 27 Mr. Dufoe was at work on the island with George Duke. They were hauling a car from the shore, Mr. Duke being with the car and Mr. Dufoe operating the hoisting engine. The car stopped and Mr. Duke going to the engine-room to ascertain the trouble found that Mr. Dufoe's clothing had been caught in the cogs of the hoisting gear and that the unfortunate man had been drawn into the machinery, his head and neck being terribly mangled. He was dead when found.

Land Damages Being Ascertained—The Method of Procedure.

And still there is considerable discussion of the Broadway route, and last week's C. G. article did not detract from the general interest in the matter. C. E. Littlefield, esq., has been deputed by the road management to ascertain from the various property owners along the proposed route the value they put upon their land, and several interesting conferences have resulted.

The process followed is as follows. If the owners and road management cannot agree upon a price, the commissioners arbitrate the matter. If their decision is not satisfactory an appeal is taken to the Supreme Court.

POSSIBLY FATAL.

A Sailor Fight Ends In a Serious Stabbing Affray.

John Kovene Receives a Terrible Gash In the Abdomen—His Assailant Is Captured In Warren—A Wicked Cut Which May Prove Fatal.

Saturday about five p. m. John Kovene and Isaac Nossett, sailors on schooner Ira Wight, got into a quarrel regarding certain work about the vessel, and adjourned to the Messer wharf, Crockett's Point, to settle the trouble. Here they had a lively fight which ended in Kovene's receiving a gash nearly two inches long in the abdomen. Nossett disappeared and Kovene was taken to his home on Winter street.

The police instituted an active search for Nossett but failed even to find a clue of his whereabouts until Sunday, when Fred Jameson of this city, who had been visiting in Warren, informed Acting Marshal Hamilton that he had seen a stranger in Warren that day who answered Nossett's description. Sheriff Gray was notified and arrested Nossett at the Warren depot yesterday morning.

Dr. Adams, who attends the wounded man, says that his wound is an ugly one and the chances are against Kovene's recovery.

Nossett was taken before Judge Hick's yesterday afternoon, C. M. Walker, esq., appearing in his behalf. Evidence was introduced to show that the prisoner acted in self defense. Judge Hick reserved his decision pending the result of Kovene's injuries.

The 4.50 p. m. train is being handled this week by Conductor Keizer.

James Campbell is making a 2000-gallon tank for Southport Harbor parties.
July's total of deaths for Rockland was only eight. In Rockland there's health.

Nothing new has developed regarding the proposed shoot of the Bangor and Belfast Gun Clubs in this city.

Two thousand feet of curbing has been distributed along the various streets where it is to go into service.

A horse belonging to Hon. N. A. Karwell was chloroformed Wednesday. He became so lame that "was necessary."

Thomas R. Drew of South Thomaston was in the city Saturday with a handsome black granite monument for Kentucky parties.

Perry Bros. are making a granite addition to their breastwork, 75x80 feet. Capt. Hamilton and sloop Yankee Girl are at work there.

A meeting for the organization of a stock company to give our city a new industry will be held in City hall next Saturday evening.

Tax Collector Smith has received the tax lists and is on the war-path. They are due Aug. 15, and interest will commence Oct. 15.

Register of Deeds Miller has been making important changes in the methods of his office, which will greatly convenience patrons.

School street is the latest thoroughfare to employ the walking building crew. The old wooden walk has been torn up to make way for granite curbing and bricks.

Canton Lafayette, Patriarchs Militants, I. O. O. F., will hold an important meeting this evening to discuss the propriety of attending the Old Orchard Encampment.

CHURCHES.—Rev. C. S. Cummings is "outing" for a few days in Bridgton, where his family preceded him. He will occupy his pulpit Sunday, August 16, as usual.

The Fourth Maine Regiment and Second Battery will be well entertained at Brooks at their reunion Aug. 25 and 26, as the business men of the town have subscribed liberally to an entertainment fund.

The Rockland Commercial College will open for its Fall session, September 7, with the same fine corps of instructors as last year. Principal Howard informs us that indications point to a large Fall attendance.

A runaway horse down Middle street, Wednesday, collided with the equipment of H. N. Pierce. Both horses were thrown. Mr. Pierce's vehicle and horse escaped without injury, while the runaway animal was but little hurt.

The Grand Encampment of the Division of the North, Patriarchs Militant, will be held at Old Orchard, Sept. 1, 2 and 3. A delegation from our local Canton will attend, headed by Major Berry. Vernalhaves will also be represented.

Strolling street musicians are reported to make a great deal of money. Be that as it may, one of the hand-organ men who tramped our streets last week with his instrument on his back sent $70 to Boston by express, Saturday.

FIXING UP.—The High School building is receiving repairs....C. M. Sullivan has made improvements about his store, a new ceiling, etc....The building on Main street, formerly occupied by Sherman & Hatch, is being converted into a nice store and basement.

Farrand, Spear & Co. are sort of improving things generally. They have just rebuilt one of their vessels, the E. G. Willard, have finished rebuilding two of their kinks, which are now ready for the railroad, and are now improving the looks of their place of business with a coat of paint.

STREET BUILDING.—Street improvements are interesting operations, and when carried on with a view to permanency, as is now the case, are very satisfactory operations....The crew has done a good job on Maple street, the roadway being improved and a substantial walk built....White street is now being reformed, the top of the hill being used to fill in the hollow west of the Stackpole House....The sidewalk on Union from summer to Granite and on Granite from Union to Maine has been torn up and the first course of a nice concrete walk laid....The sewer crew on Cedar street are just completing their work....The paving at the south-end has been completed for this season, the final block being laid at the southern corner of Myrtle street. The entire paving crew is now busy at the foot of Middle street. A brick walk will be constructed to the foot of Granite street and paving laid almost to that point.

SHORTS.—Circus—Shea—The average lively horse shows his ribs this fine weather. There is no holiday for him, but plenty of flys on him....Everybody had a good time on the excursions....Now for camp meeting....The Rockland boat boats are good material for excursions....Some fine farms are advertised for sale on our fifth page....Hurley's kink bridge affords the finest view of our harbor extant, and this harbor is the Naples of America, too....The Lindsey House is securing a good trade....Sherman, Glover & Co. have built a mammoth bill-board for the circus people....The K. & L. excursions are very popular....Thorndike & Hix have received acres of packages and the prices range very low....The Boston boats are carrying a great many people to and from Northport....The harbor is well filled with yachts....Rockland's continued street improvement attracts the attention of our regular summer visitors....Sugar and fruit are cheap and preserves will be plenty next winter.

THE OUTING SEASON.

Sea and Shore Scenes of Busy and Pleasurable Activity.

The Song of the Clam—A Festive Week of Picnic Excursions and Parties—Bay View, Bay Point, Crescent Beach and the Rest.

Now the seaweed cracks and sizzles,
And it snaps and smolders, too,
As the water from the ocean dries and goes
Away like dew,
And the people chatter round about,
And snort their lips and cheer,
And more impatient grow with every minute.

And the clam, poor little creature,
Groans and whimpers mournfully,
And his shells are throbbing madly,
And his tears are flowing free,
For he knows by subtle instinct
That he's certain sure to be,
In a very little instant, clear way in it.

Fred Smith at Crescent Beach served 300 dinners, Sunday.

Rev. W. C. Barrows and family occupy the Crie cottage, Bay Point.

The Anatoyne party from Bay View had a jolly picnic at Ash Point, Thursday.

The Simpson House party has returned home after a pleasant sojourn of two weeks.

An excursion from Rockport with a band came into the harbor Saturday evening.

J. E. Hanly, esq., of Boston arrived Tuesday and is with his family at Bay View.

Mrs. George Gilchrist pleasantly entertained friends at her cottage, Bay View, Friday.

We have had five weeks of perfect weather, there being but two unpleasant days in thirty-five.

Bay Point's guests now number nearly 100. Many of last year's visitors arrived the past week.

A. S. Rice, esq., and wife and Misses Annie and Neen Rice drove to Pemquid Sunday. Hon. Samuel Bryant also passed Sunday there.

The Ocean House, Owl's Head, Landford Rawson, has a big list of summer guests, who are enjoying the beautiful scenery, pure air and satisfying cuisine.

There are families living in Bar Harbor, it is said, who spend $15,000 in a season. This is the sort of item that makes the average Maine smile from ear to ear.

Letter Carrier Burpee is at Cooper's Beach and Letter Carrier Lawry at Ash Point, for their annual outing. Messrs. Babbidge and Titus take their places on the carrier route.

The Mountain View House, Camden, is having a very heavy patronage. Mr. Martin informs us that he will enlarge next year. His house is steadily growing in popularity.

Misses Lawrence, Priest and Parker, who are summering at the Lindsey Hotel, have organized themselves into an orchestra and are presenting some very nice music. The instruments brought into play are a piano, cornet and violin.

Charles A. Haskell and family, Miss Mamie Killoch, Miss Hattie Devans of Boston and Misses Nellie and Winnie Thorndike of Rockport are at Butler's College, Pleasant Beach, for the month of August. They entertained quite a party of Rockland friends last evening.

A party of about 150 persons enjoyed the Universalist Sunday School picnic to Hughes Point, Islesboro, Wednesday, arriving home about six o'clock, highly pleased with the voyage and the beauties of the picnic ground. The trip was made in steamer Electa.

Wednesday and Thursday of this week steamer Sommers N. Smith will take schooner Onward in tow and leave excursions to and from Northport, leaving Tilson's wharf at seven o'clock, a. m., and leaving Northport on the return trip at five o'clock.

Charles Robinson and Charles Potter of New York are at the Peabody Cottage, Crescent Beach, and Harry S. Peabody and family and Dr. Young and wife of Bridgeport, Conn., arrived Saturday for a two weeks stay.

A party of Rocklanders got lost in Boothbay, Saturday, and while trying to find their way out of the maze of streets quite accidentally fell in with our former fellow townsman, Capt. Joseph Kennistown, who not only piloted them to his own home but sent out for a team and gave them a very pleasant ride around that interesting town.

St. Bernard's excursion to Damariscotta, Wednesday, was a day of huge enjoyment. There were one thousand people on the grounds the cars leaving eight hundred there. There was dancing in the afternoon with music by Meserve's Brass Quintet, while baseball, boat racing and fishing were not neglected. The new grove is a most admirable place for such gatherings. There were no accidents and a general good time.

Large numbers from along the line of the road made the excursion to Bath and do not river on Saturday last. Superintendent Aite made no mistake when he inaugurated these low-price excursions and deserves well of his country for so doing. We know of no way to see so much for so little money as can be found by taking this trip. Every Tuesday and Saturday this month is announced for the regular excursion dates.

The sacred concerts at Bay Point, Sunday evening, by Prouty's Orchestra, Ed. W. Prouty, director, are attracting a great deal of attention. The class of music is of the best and the rendering above criticism. Last Sunday's program was exceptionally fine and greatly enjoyed. We reproduce it:

Hymn, "Brightly gleams our Banner," Sullivan.
Serenade, "Willow Tree," Moszkowski.
Selection, "Kismet," Verdi.
Vocal Solo, "Elegy," Verdi.
Performed by Ed. W. Prouty.
Portuguese of Gospel Hymns.
"La Reine,"
"Eve Maria,"
"Christ's March."

Goldenrod.
Mendelssohn.

Hop at Bay Point tonight.

F. W. Fuller and wife are at the Cobb Cottage, Cooper's Beach.

Prof. Rankin is to give a closing class ball at Farwell Hall, Aug. 27, with music by the celebrated Brigham's orchestra of Marlboro.

There will be an excursion to Spruce Head on steamer May Field, under the auspices of the Chapel Society of Port Clyde, Thursday, Aug. 13. It stormy the trip will be postponed to the next fair day. The public is invited. Fares 50 cents for adults, children under 12, 25 cents. A clam bake will be gotten up for the party, free of expense.

The Tafts College Glee Club gave a most enjoyable concert at Bay Point last evening. The management is doing all in its power to entertain Bay Point's many guests. Next Thursday Mrs. Annie Hough of Providence, R. I., an accomplished reader, will arrive, and assist in the entertainment.

Some of our people have been outing at Waldoboro, Martin's Point. They report the following party there: Comery Cottage, Mrs. Isaac Reed, Waldoboro, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Robinson, Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Davis, Rockland, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Hovey, Waldoboro, Mrs. Chas. Prof. Rankin's German Thursday evening was a very pleasant event. Willoughby Hall, the scene of the festival, was gaily decorated with colored bunting, a reception room for ladies being formed off flags. Mrs. A. S. Rice received, efficiently assisted by Mesd. F. H. Berry and J. D. May. W. A. Hill, Arnold H. Jones, Robert Crockett and Prof. Rankin ushered, and Miss Annie Rice and Mr. Rankin led the German. The figures danced were the "Scarl," "Pittation," "Coquette," and "Ninon."

The "scarl" was the principal figure and was very showy and pretty. At eleven o'clock a lunch of sandwiches, ice-cream, cake and chocolate were served in the upper hall by Miss Kate Donahue of St. Katherine's. Mrs. A. H. Berry graciously did the honors at the chocolate table and Mrs. Flora Seagraves of Providence, R. I., a guest of St. Katherine's, presided very genteely over the coffee. Excellent music was furnished by the Rockland Concert Orchestra, Messrs. Purinton and Crockett, violins; G. F. Meserve, clarinet; H. S. Doherty, cornet; Geo. E. Torrey, double bass. Prof. Rankin is again responsible for a most delightful occasion.

PEOPLE OF PROMINENCE.

Gladstone's best portrait is the one which Sir Everett Millais painted thirty years ago. It is now owned by Sir Charles Tennant, who bought it of the Duke of Westminster for $15,000.

The late Dr. Henry Schlemm left a property of over $1,000,000. About one-third of it goes to the two oldest children of his divorced wife, and the remainder to his second wife and her children.

The late Leslie F. Morgan of London, Eng., left $250,000 to be distributed in equal shares among the poor or any deserving charities of Philadelphia, St. Louis, Chicago and San Francisco.

Major General Schofield, who is now on his bridal tour in the Northwest, is a pleasant-faced man of medium height, broad shouldered and well-built. He wears a tall iron-gray beard and mustache. The general is a native of New York and is not quite 60 years old.

Captain Henry C. Hathaway, of New Bedford, Mass., was the American shipmaster who rescued John Boyle O'Reilly in the Indian ocean, after he had escaped from the Australian penal colony. The friends of the dead poet and patriot recently presented the captain with a silver bas-relief of his former carrier, the Gazelle.

John Cladin, the dry goods merchant, is known in the Rocky mountains as a man who slays a grizzly every time he goes out there for a month's rest and sport. Mr. Cladin would never be taken for a sportsman. He looks more like the conventional Sunday school superintendent, but he is fond of adventure. He is said to have been the first traveler to cross South America from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

David Starr Jordan, of Bloomington, Ind., for several years president of the Indiana university, is to be the president of the Leland Stanford, Jr., university at Palo Alto, Cal. He is to have a salary of $10,000 and a residence, which is probably more than any other college president in this country receives. Dr. Jordan was a graduate from Cornell university in 1872 and has distinguished himself in several branches of natural history.

The story is told that while the young German kaiser was making a sham battle between some Russian cavalry he asked the czar for permission to take charge of one side. It was granted, and the kaiser proposed to show the Russians what a real soldier who was not a shopkeeper nor a tailor could do. While he was following rule thirty-three in his book on tactics the Russians surrounded his supposed army and he was captured. It is said he went to his tent and would not come out for the rest of the day.

It is pretty tough for an ex-king to be called upon to pay his taxes just as though he was an ordinary chump. That is what induced ex-king Maelton of Saxony to rise in rebellion against his ancient friend Maelton. But the American, British and German consuls, backed by sundry warships, warned Maelton to "come off," and he has paid up his taxes like a little man.—Lincoln Journal.

A stray horse entered a Brooklyn candy store the other day, to the great terror of the proprietor, picked up some candy and held it out to the young woman clerk. While she was wondering whether the animal wanted the candy she was startled by the sound of a door being opened and she saw a man enter. He was used to being fed from the hand and thought he could eat it no other way.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

E. G. Hoag of Fresno, Cal., lost his watch most unaccountably recently. Some time after, another resident of Fresno, passing a fig orchard, climbed a tree to help himself to fruit and found the watch hanging by the chain to the tree.

THE SKETCH BOOK.

Bouquereau, Vuillefroyes, Mme. Madeleine Lamiré, a French artist who sent examples of her brush to the international exposition at Berlin, despite the protests of "patriotic" Frenchmen, are reaping the rewards of their tenacity. Their photographs are to be seen in the show windows of the capital with the legend: "Exposition de Berlin." "These names," ends an article in L'Autorité, "must be nailed on the pillar of shame as those of the worst Frenchmen, unworthy to represent French art. These artists should remain in Germany. We repudiate them. They are worthy of being Prussians." The Matin and a number of other journals have printed the names of the "unpatriotic" artists in their most conspicuous columns.

A young Tennessean, inspired by martial ardor, last winter wrote to the superintendent at West Point for the terms of admission. The usual circular of information from the secretary of war was returned to him. Some time after he wrote again, thus: "I received your terms some time since. I was not 17 years of age when I heard from you. I can't come under such terms. I will give you the terms that I will come under. I want only to study military tactics. I want to stay three years. I want $40 per month. At the end of the term I want a position over some army of the United States. I want you to send me a round ticket there and back. I think I am both physically and mentally qualified to fill the position. I will not be out anything, but I want the position. Please answer this."

Unquestionably the oldest triplets in the country are Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, of Rockland, Bucks County, Pa. Their age is 80 years, and they are among the nine survivors of a family of twelve children, two of whom are older than the triplets, the youngest of the nine being 74. Their mother died four years ago aged 98, and their father died in war time when he was 84. Of the triplets Jacob, who is blind, is cared for by relatives and lives in some comfort, but the other two dwell alone in wretched little huts. Jacob and Isaac are war veterans and the former draws a pension of $12 per month. Abraham still mends a pair of shoes or loads a hay wagon, while Isaac prides himself on his strength, which he says is greater than it was sixty years ago, does his own work, and thinks he is good for twenty years more of life. They seem to be a little uncertain about their age, referring questions on that subject to "Tobias's wife," Tobias being their eldest brother, aged 85.

There are now blooming at St. Augustine, Fla., sixteen plants of the agave Victoria regina species, or what is commonly called the century plant. A towering column rises out of the center of the plant to a height of sixty feet, but it is often relegated to the rubbish heap as worthless, for the reason that as a thing of beauty it has no further charm for the eye. Yet many thousands of the shaving people of the old world utilize this shaft of the plant. They make use of it as a razor strop. W. A. Chambers, auditor of the East Coast railway line, has had one in use for many years, and it shows not the slightest defect from wear and tear. The Friday evening last the annual inspection of the Ladies Aid Society of B. F. Carr Camp, S. of V., took place in G. A. R. Hall under the direction of Inspection Officer E. K. Gould of Rockland. The society made a fine showing, being allowed 97 1-2 points. In consequence of this occasion B. F. Carr Camp arranged for a sumptuous supper in the banquet room of the G. A. R. Several members of Gardner Schwartz Camp of Waldo were present and the usual pleasant time enjoyed.

The German at Watts Hall last evening was one of the most enjoyable and successful events of the season. About 30 most of the guests had arrived and they were immediately ushered in and introduced to the matrons, Mrs. Dr. Walker, Mrs. C. S. Smith, Mrs. C. A. Leighton and Mrs. Stella Whitaker. The ladies were in charge of Mrs. S. E. Smith and Mrs. Emma Lewis. After a general wait of a few minutes, the company were called to position and the German began, Miss L. Fales of Cambridge and Mr. R. C. Rankin of Boston leading from the upper end of the hall; Miss Clara Lewis of Roxbury and Mr. Herbert White leading from the other end.

The principal figures under Mr. White's direction were "Pass in the Corner," "Candle" and "Handkerchief," those under Mr. Rankin, the "Quadrille," "Ninipin," "Fan" and "Basket." Those creating the most sport were "Fan" and "Candle," and the prettiest, the "Quadrille." The ladies and gentlemen were all in full evening toilet. Among the most guests were Mrs. Smith in white brocade and gold, with diamond ornaments. Mrs. Dr. Walker looked very charming in black more antique and diamonds. Mrs. Dr. Walker in a delicate shade of blue muslin de sole with gold ornaments. Mrs. Lewis in black lace and diamonds, and Mrs. Leighton, white silk and gold with diamonds. The stage looked pretty and the music was very pleasing.

At eleven o'clock was intermission and after a short wait of a few minutes, the German resumed, and dancing was enjoyed until 12.30, when all, after wishing the matrons good night and congratulating the promoter of the entertainment on its success, retired declaring that in their estimation Germans are the best thing for an evening's entertainment. The galleries were very well filled with spectators, who must have enjoyed the evening as most of them stayed until it closed. Music was furnished by Messrs. Brass Quintet, which was hidden behind a bank of evergreens.

HOPE.

Rev. L. P. Blackford of Waltham, Mass., lectured in the Universalist church Friday evening, and preached Sunday evening. A large audience greeted Rev. C. P. Nash of Cantonville, Pa., the Sunday previous.

Camden possesses a freshness and charm peculiarly its own, comparatively little known by the world at large, with scenic beauties surpassing in grandeur any other spot on the coast of Maine, and is seen only by a favored few.

H. S. Fuller, editor of the Brockton Daily Enterprise, writing of the attractions of Camden as a Summer resort says, among other things: "Hundreds will come where scores now come, for such beauty cannot long remain undiscovered."

Seventy passengers landed at Camden from the Boston boat, August 1, and every day adds to the number. Our beautiful city is taking on a midsummer aspect. There are daily entertainments at Neguticook hall, stables are leased for teams, every sail and row-boat is in use, and gaiety reigns supreme.

Our enterprising and thriving shirt manufacturers, Keller & Co., have moved all their effects from the Cleveland block into their new and more commodious quarters at Parker's Square, opposite Higgins' stable. It is a large wooden building, 54 windows, three doors, basement and attic, and employs 80 girls and boys. Many in other towns and cities form stock companies for the encouragement, and to induce outside capital to establish new business within its borders, while our enterprising citizen, J. H. Montgomery, Esq., aside from taking a leading rank as lawyer, has erected and rented this extensive building with its steam engine and necessary machinery. Our people will appreciate his efforts. Prof. Brown was the efficient architect.

DETROIT ENCAMPMENT.

The Largest Attendance In the History of the Grand Army.

Forty Thousand Men in Line—An Ex-President Marches—Maine and Her Gallant Representation—Statistics of the Grand Army.

The Grand Army National Encampment in Detroit the past week was one of the most successful in the history of the organization. It was the 25th or silver anniversary, and special interest was occasioned thereby.

On Tuesday occurred the grand parade. There were 40,000 veterans in line, and they were reviewed by Commander-in-Chief Veazey and staff, Secretary of War Proctor, General Miles and others.

Interesting features in the parade were ex-President Hayes marching with his Post from Fremont, Ohio, the Girl Cadets, the Michigan Female Band, and "Old Abe," the Wisconsin eagle.

New England was well represented. Rhode Island and Connecticut sent small delegations, while Massachusetts sent 2500 strong. New Hampshire sent twenty men and Vermont 150. One hundred ex-Union soldiers, led by Department Commander Samuel L. Miller, represented the state of Maine, and in the ranks were more than one man of national reputation. General George L. Beal, the dashing colonel, who for gallantry was breveted brigadier general at the close of the war, marched in the ranks, and among the other familiar figures were Past Commanders Nelson Howard, H. H. Burdick and Assistant Adjutant General Edwin C. Milburn.

THE SECOND DAY.

Wednesday was devoted strictly to business. Commander-in-Chief Veazey made a brilliant address from which we quote:

"The female support of our order, both in character and magnitude, is too familiar to require explanation. They bring supplies to the relief fund, and aid most effectively in bringing recruits into the Post; they generally assist the Posts in their entertainments; they sustain their money in the observance of Memorial Day; they are invaluable when sickness and death invade the household of the comrade. They are indeed our auxiliary and are entitled to our gratitude."

The Sons of Veterans received special recognition at the 25th National Encampment. I have endeavored to give it cordial support on this account, and also because I believe in its present and prospective usefulness. It has had a rapid growth within the past year; more than 30,000 have been mustered since June 30, 1890. Thirty-two States and Territories have been organized as Divisions, and more than twenty-five hundred subordinate Camps.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S REPORT.

The following is an abstract of the report of H. Goulding:

On August 14, 1890, there were borne upon the rolls 414 departments, with 7195 posts and 327,941 comrades in good standing. The consolidated report of the adjutant general for the period ending June 30, 1891, as far as the returns have been made, stands as follows: Shows in good standing: 45 departments with 1409 posts and 308,007 comrades. The sum expended in charity as reported for the year ending June 30, 1890, was $217,057.34, relieving 21,653 persons; for the year ending June 30, 1891, $333,697.85. The total number of deaths reported for the year ending June 30, 1890, was 5499, and for the year ending June 30, 1891, was 5539; the actual number doubtless being much greater. For the past 14 years, the gains in membership have been as follows: 1877, 280; 1878, 3837; 1879, 13,733; 1880, 15,882; 1881, 22,222; 1882, 48,845; 1883, 80,745; 1884, 107,722; 1885, 21,519; 1886, 28,784; 1887, 32,345; 1888, 17,404; 1889, 29,010; 1890, 11,515.

The Department of Indian Territory and Oklahoma has been divided into two departments, that of the Indian Territory and that of Oklahoma.

The adjutant general is of the opinion that the Grand Army is not at its summit in point of members if some of the evils hinted at are remedied. It can and should be made to reach a membership of 600,000 or 700,000, but this must be done within five years if ever. He believes with work and proper organization, it is quite possible, there being over 1,200,000 old soldiers now living.

The Woman's Relief Corps continues to flourish. Already it comprises twenty-nine permanent and six provisional departments, and at the meeting this week President Mary Sears McHenry announced the creation of four new provisional departments, the states thus recognized being Montana, West Virginia, Arkansas and Virginia. The total membership is now 116,000. The charity work last year aggregated $150,000, and yet the organization has over $100,000 in its treasury, national treasuries, and the department treasurer's report will probably swell this sum to over $200,000.

At the afternoon session Washington was selected as the spot for the next national encampment.

THURSDAY'S WORK.

The committee appointed to consider the question of provisional departments reported as follows:

Your committee has carefully considered the clear and frank statements of the Commander-in-Chief regarding the difficulties existing between the posts in the departments of Louisiana and Mississippi. The committee has considered all the documents submitted and arguments laid before it as to the causes leading to the existing trouble in that department. The old posts in Louisiana and Mississippi are composed of white comrades, the new posts of colored comrades. The contention is that the latter posts are tainted with fraud in their organization. The remedy suggested, of a separate department of concurrent jurisdiction for colored veterans, involves an interference with our rules and regulations. In view of the facts submitted to your committee, it is of the opinion that it would be inexpedient to place authority with the Commander-in-Chief to organize new provisional departments in states with organized departments.

OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR.

The officers elected are: Capt. John Palmer, Albany, N. Y., Commander-in-Chief; H. M. Duffield of Michigan, Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief; T. C. Claiborne of Nebraska, Junior Vice Commander-in-Chief; S. B. Faine of Florida, Chaplain; and Benjamin T. Stevenson of Connecticut, Surgeon General.

Captain John Palmer was born on Staten Island, N. Y., March 22, 1842. He enlisted in the Ninety-first New York Volunteers on the 10th of September, 1861, and was with that regiment until it was mustered out, July 3, 1865, taking part in all its engagements. He was seriously injured at the battle of Five Forks, in the combined cavalry and infantry charge.

Since the war he has been engaged in the decorating and fresco painting business at Albany, N. Y., and had the contract for all the decorating on the new State Capitol.

As a G. A. R. member he has been commander of Lew Burdick Post 6 several terms, was twice commander of the department, and in 1878 was elected senior vice commander-in-chief. He is a forcible speaker, a model presiding officer at department and national conventions, and has often been at the head of important State and National Encampments.

BRIEF RECORD.

It is unfortunate that this quarter-centennial celebration should be the occasion of an attempt to introduce into the ranks of the veterans the odious color line, which has wrought so much mischief in politics. Our soldiers did not hold themselves apart to be reinforced by the colored recruits when we were in the thick of the bloody struggle. The negro troops formed a part of the same army with the white; they fought with desperate valor on many a hotly contested field, and they faced not only the risks of battle which they shared with the white soldiers, but the further risk of inhuman treatment or cold-blooded massacre if they fell into the hands of the enemy. These are facts which ought to be remembered by those who, at this late day, seek to divide the colored veterans of the privilege of marching under the same banners with the white members of the Grand Army, in commemoration of the struggles in which both bore an honorable part. We hope that the Grand Army will meet this issue firmly and generously.—Boston Journal.

Retiring Commander-in-Chief Veazey was given a handsome testimonial Tuesday evening. Comrade Rutherford B. Hayes making the presentation.

BURNT ISLAND STATION.

As we announced last week W. H. Glover & Co. of this city are the lowest bidders for the construction of the government life saving station on Burnt Island. The specifications call for a dwelling house, 30x50 feet, 11-2 storied; an out building for fuel, 12x15 feet and a boat house, 24x40 feet, one storied. The station will be located on the west end of Burnt Island.

GOOD TEMPLARS.

The District Lodge Meeting—An Interesting Session Reported.

The next session of Knox District Lodge, I. O. G. T., will be held at Warren with Mr. Willow Lodge, Wednesday, Aug. 19. The subordinate lodges are taking more interest in the district work than ever before and an interesting and lively meeting may be expected. Grand Councilor Frank H. Dexter of Springfield will be present at the session.

Progressive Lodge, I. O. G. T., initiated one candidate Monday evening of last week, making eleven initiates for the term. The lodge now numbers 156 members.

EAST JEFFERSON.

Volney B. Cushing, chairman of the Prohibition State Committee, lectured to a large audience at Bay View Hall, Wednesday evening.

The ladies of Waldoboro W. C. T. U. met the ladies of the Jefferson Union at the village school-house Friday afternoon and had a very interesting business session, after which refreshments were sold in the hall. In the evening Rev. James Graham of Waldoboro delivered a stirring temperance lecture to a large audience.

PERSONALS.—E. W. Ladd and family of Concord, N. H., are visiting here. Rev. E. W. Boynton is spending his vacation in town. Sunday he preached in the Bunker Hill church. Charles Hopkins of Boston is stopping at home for a short time. A. E. Linnett, Harry and George Kennedy are off camping at Penikese. Mrs. E. M. H. Merrill of the Boston Globe is spending a few days at A. L. Wells'.

OUR EXCHANGES.

From the number of men who have been arrested in different parts of New England and suspicion of being Almy, the New Hampshire murderer, it is evident that the officers are on the lookout for him in the State. Mr. Almy is the right one. It is remarkable that he should have eluded them so long, and there seems to be good reason for believing that he must have committed suicide. That would be the best thing for him to do.—Gardner Journal.

A case of female servants' wages was tried in Falmouth by a woman lawyer before a jury of twelve women. This was as it should be. In the adjustment of these great domestic problems men are not to be compared to women. It is safe to say that no member of that Wyoming jury slept through the putting in of evidence.—Augusta Journal.

THE TWO ROADS.

A Correspondent Furnishes Information on a Question Recently Asked.

ROCKLAND, Aug. 1, 1891.
MR. EDITOR:—I will give your readers what I know about the two roads referred to in your paper several weeks ago. In the first place I will designate the two roads by the names of the old County road and the Mountain road. It seems that the town ordered that a road four rods wide be laid out from the Warren line through Thompson to the Camden line near Mill River in 1775, and this is what is now the Main street in Thompson, thence to Moore's Corner, thence through the Ulmer neighborhood to Blackington's Corner, and from there to the Camden line on the south side of Tolman's Pond. This road was accepted by the town in 1775, but there was made possible for light teams before 1801.

Now as to the Mountain road, it seems that this road, which is on the west side of the Mountain, was laid out from the vicinity of Beech Woods to Tolman's mill in 1783 and was accepted by the town in 1784, but there doesn't seem to be any record of the time when this road was made, but it probably was made when the town was in 1784, or in 1781, 5 or 6.

This old County road was the first mail route from Warren to Camden, via Blackington's Corner.

MR. ALLEN'S DEATH.

Extracts From the Papers Concerning a Public Spirited Man.

At the time of his death E. C. Allen was contemplating the location of a large branch of his printing establishment in Canada. It would probably have been placed in St. John and that city is therefore deprived of a great enterprise. Mr. Allen's enthusiasm and desire to extend his business seemed boundless.—Bangor Commercial.

In the death of E. C. Allen Augusta loses the manager of one of her most important business enterprises who had amassed a great fortune and expended liberally in extending his business operations in that city. His financial success from his start without capital or help has been one of the most remarkable in our State, and demonstrated his exceptional ability in organizing novel enterprises and conducting them on a large scale.—Bangor Whig.

In the death of Hon. E. C. Allen, on Tuesday at the Parker House, Boston, the State loses one of its ablest business men. Augusta one of her best known citizens and the Democratic party in Maine one of its most influential and capable supporters. On the eve of more than one Democratic State Convention his name has been mentioned and urged as a candidate for Governor and but for his own misfortune in the matter it is probable that he would have indeed been nominated.—Bangor Eagle.

Overwork is believed to have been the cause of E. C. Allen's untimely death. This raises the old question as to the probability of success gained at such cost. As the Irishman put it, "Phat's the wurral to a man when his wife is a widow?"—Portland Advertiser.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Rachel Hewitt Hunt, aged 92 years, 7 months, died May 4, 1891.

The Holy Spirit gave to her
A peace not taught in world-wide lore.
So found thy soul its light to see;
That "God's love" illumine life's mystery.

A Savior's hand unveiled the cross,
When lo! thy heart held hidden joy.
Henceforth for thee no pain was loss,
Untrials disarmed could not destroy.

The passing years left lightest trace,
Thy brow was smooth, thy thoughts were fresh.
Enfolded in love's enlightening grace,
Thy life was web in plainest mesh.

Unwavering faith—silent, serene,
Gave strength to bear with patient ease
Unthought of care, that came between
Thy later years in Heaven's decrees.

But now, no more canst thou bestow
On us, thy welcoming smile to greet.
No more thy voice in accents low
Will softly counsel or entreat.

Thy "Well Beloved" hath given thee rest,
Deep peaceable slumber full of joy.
In heaven today, with friends loved best,
Exultant, free from earth's alloy.

Those waiting friends, Oh! blissful meeting;
How fondly they clasp thee to their breasts.
The good Shepherd's angels are singing
Thrice happy soul now you are blest.

HOME-MADE ICE-CREAMS.

Barber's Bazaar.

It is just four years ago that we bought our ice cream freezer, and I am safe in saying that no similar purchase has ever given so much satisfaction in the family as this. It has been in every way a good investment, for there is scarcely a week in the year that we do not use it, and I would be glad if I could influence other housewives to appreciate frozen desserts as highly as they deserve. They are not nearly so troublesome to prepare as is popularly supposed, and, regarded from a hygienic stand-point alone, they are a great improvement upon many others which are common upon our tables.

I have experimented with various recipes for French ice-creams and have found a combination which gives excellent results, and which has the advantage at the same time of being within the means of almost every one.

This is not a characteristic of many recipes. I have, one for instance, which calls for "four quarts of very rich cream, two vanilla beans," and eggs and sugar in proportion. My rule is a simple one. Put one pint of milk in a double boiler with a piece of vanilla bean about one inch in length. Cream together the yolks of four eggs, half a cup of sugar, and two rounding tablespoonfuls of flour until very light, and stir gradually into the milk when it reaches the boiling-point. Allow five to ten minutes, stirring frequently. Add a small pinch of salt, and turn into a stone dish, beating at intervals while it cools. This is to prevent it from forming into lumps. When cold, add one and a half pints of cream (or rich country milk) and half a cup of sugar.

This may be prepared early in the day, and kept in the ice-box. If a larger quantity is desired, a quart of cream (or milk) and more sugar may be used instead of the above proportions, the foundation mixture being the same for both. Care must be taken in beating the flour, as too much is sure to taste. The spoon must be rounding full instead of heaping; about one ounce in all.

Be sure and use the vanilla bean for flavoring, as it is quite impossible to make a good ice-cream with vanilla extracts. All large grocery houses keep them, and I think it would be quite possible to have one or more sent by post to any place where they were not obtainable. They are long thin pods, which sell at twenty cents for one, and as only an inch piece is used each time, they will not cost much.

Before freezing, remove the bit of pod, carefully scraping all the little seeds into the custard. One of the features of French ice cream is the tiny seeds scattered through it.

Prepare the ice by pounding it fine in a coarse strainer and use rock-salt in the proportion of three pints for a gallon freezer. Put the can in the center of the tub with the beater in place, fasten the lid securely, and pack ice and salt in alternate layers until the tub is full. Turn the crank a few minutes, and as the works down, add more until it is firmly and solidly packed. If plenty of ice is used, twenty minutes will serve to freeze the cream.

The crank need not be turned constantly, and the motion at first should be rather slow. When it begins to harden, turn rapidly, as this is the stage when rapid beating makes the cream smooth and light.

When it is firm enough, take out the paddle, beat well with a wooden spoon or spatula to fill up the space made by the beater, and scrape well from the sides. Cover the tub with a blanket, and set away in a cool place, and let two hours at least elapse before serving. When ready to do so, dip the can in warm (not hot) water, wipe dry, and invert on a cold dish. It should come out in firm and perfect shape.

It is possible to have several varieties of cream in the same mould with only one freezing, and various combinations may be made to suit the individual taste. After the vanilla cream is frozen, a portion may be taken out into a cold bowl, and one cupful of well-sweetened strawberry or raspberry juice stirred into it. Pour this back into the can, and it will soon harden to the proper consistency. A quarter of a cupful of strong coffee may be used in the same way. A banana or two may be sliced thin and added, and a little shredded pineapple gives a fine flavor. Ripe peaches, if cut up and sweetened, make a very nice addition; but they should not be added until about half an hour before serving time, as they must be chilled and not frozen.

A DILEMMA.

The picturesque little village, unfortunately styled Glen Cove had just succeeded in getting itself recognized as South Camden, when Rockport cut loose from Camden, taking South Camden with it, and now Glen Cove allies South Camden wants to know what, and where it is. South Rockport will do, or why not call it Warrenton Village?

FRANCE AND RUSSIA.

The enthusiasm shown by Russians over the French sailors has aroused the czar's suspicions. He does not like so much of a to do over Republicans, for it bodes no good to his autocracy.—Kansas City Times.

Russia has a very sly way of working out a spite, and regardless of present friendly protestations her hand has been shown, for the French marines are each and every one to be presented by the municipality of St. Petersburg with a package of cigarettes on the occasion of an ensuing visit.—Omaha World-Herald.

One of the significant signs of the times in Europe is the visit of a French fleet to Cronstadt, where it has been enthusiastically welcomed by the Russian people, of course under the direction and surveillance of the police, who see to it that there is not too much boiling over of popular good will, but just enough. The czar is to entertain the officers to-day at a banquet, at which, of course, he will take the initiative and make a speech, when it is feared he may say something that will put all Europe on edge and furnish the newspapers with a theme. But beyond that nothing can come of it, for it is impossible to think of Republican France and autocratic Russia as forming any but an unholy and short-lived alliance. Siberia is always in the eye of the French people when Russia is mentioned.—Memphis Commercial.

On us, thy welcoming smile to greet.
No more thy voice in accents low
Will softly counsel or entreat.
